The Red Deer Tannery

Local Men Guarantee Its Success

The plant of the Freytag Co., Ltd., the concern about to engage in dressing and tanning of hides and skins for various purposes, is now completed and operations will be begun promptly.

The company has all the chances of success. Alberta is producing a large amount of hides and skins, and as the land is being taken up, this number will greatly increase. Formerly, hides and skins produced in the west had to be sold to the east and bought back in the shape of manufactured articles at a greatly increased cost. By doing away, even partly, with this and making our raw materials up on the spot into useful articles, which the local demand is immense and ever increasing, not only a saving on the ultimate price to the consumer can be brought about, but also the general benefits gained, that go hand in hand with industry. It was with this point in view that the company, has been established.

The company intends to devote itself mainly to the dressing of cattle and horse hides and other skins in the hair and wool, and also making them up into fur coats, robes, mittens, gloves. These lines will be moderately priced but of high wearing qualities. They are to be sold through retailers.

To accommodate individual customers, a custom-serving department is established, which will receive hides and skins sent in by farmers and other parties dress and tan them, and if desired work them up into ready to wear articles such as fur coats, robes, gloves, mittens, etc. for a very reasonable charge.

The fur coats, robes, mittens, etc., made from hides of domestic animals, are very serviceable and excellent value for the money. Cattle and horse hides, if properly dressed, give coats light in weight and having seams only to give them shape, they naturally wear longer than goods made up from small pieces.

This kind of goods has grown immensely in favor in the Northwest States, where tremendous quantities are made up every year. Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Omaha, Des Moines, etc.

Mr. Freytag, the organizer and manager of the company, has made a special study of this branch during several years of practical work in the places named, and the plant has been designed and equipped for this purpose. It is the most complete of this kind in the northwest. The building is 30 x 130, in fine, light and airy location, divided into departments according to the stages through which the stock must pass before it is changed into the material that has only to be sewn up to be ready for use.

From the hide house, where the raw stock is weighed, sorted, etc., it passes into the beamhouse and yard, where, besides necessary mechanical manipulations, it is treated in all kinds of liquors, washed, pressed, neutralized and what not, whereupon it passes into the milling and washing room, to be treated with other ingredients within large, round, heavy, revolving vessels, in the shape of drums, and other machines driven by power. The drying and finishing room completes the process, and in the sewing room, which is at the opposite end from the millhouse, the stock receives its final shape and is then ready for shipment.

To be able to serve their patrons so much better, the company will turn out harness, lace glove and shoe leathers, in small quantities for the present, although later the output of these lines will have to be greatly increased.

The dressing of large hides into coats and robe stock is a rather difficult task, since the hide must be shaved down to a uniform light substance, not only to make it pliable, but also to make the coat as light in weight as possible. This is accomplished by tools with razor-like, turned edges, the handling and maintenance of which require skill, accuracy and strength. This kind of work, we are informed, has been impossible to replace by machines, similar is the case with the dressing of fine furs where hand work has to be employed exclusively. In the manufacture of leather machines are employed extensively.

The processes to be employed are modern fast tannages, miners', chemical and extract. They have all the advantages of rapidity, cleanliness and almost mathematical accuracy.

The fact that Messrs. Greene, Michener, Bawlinshewer and Carscallen are interested in this, enterprise shows the confidence which local business men have in the tannery.

To acquaint the country at large with the nature of the business and the attractive values it has to offer, the company has issued an illustrated folder, which will be sent free to any address upon request. Their ad, appears in this paper.

Inaugural School Board Meeting

R. L. Gaetz Chairman for 1911

The School Board held its inaugural meeting in the office of W. E. Payne on Monday afternoon last for the purpose of electing a chairman and other officers for the year.

There was a full attendance of members. R. L. Gaetz and W. E. Payne made the declaration of office and took their seats.

On motion of W. E. Payne and F. S. Simpson, R. L. Gaetz was elected chairman for the year 1911.

A. Munro was re-elected secretary treasurer for the year at the same salary as last year.

W. E. Payne and F. S. Simpson were elected a finance committee on motion of J. A. Carswell and M. A. Munro.

J. A. Carswell and M. A. Munro were elected a property committee on motion of W. E. Payne and F. S. Simpson.

The election of a truancy officer was left over to next meeting.

The regular night of meeting will be the second Wednesday of each month at 8 o'clock.

The meeting then adjourned to this Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock at the board room in the school.

Old Timers' Association.

The annual meeting of the Red Deer Old Timers' Association will be held in the Oddfellows' Hall, on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 21st, at 2:30 o'clock, for the election of officers for the ensuing year and any other business that may come before the meeting. It is hoped every old timer in the west in 1892, or earlier, will make an effort to be present and take part in the meeting.

The Women's Guild Of St. Luke's

The Ladies' Guild, to be known in the future as the Women's Guild of St. Luke's church, held their annual meeting in the vestry on Wednesday evening, Jan. 4th. On account of the inclemency of the weather, the meeting was not so well attended as in former years, but sufficient members were present to get through the business in hand.

After a hearty vote of thanks to retiring officers, the elections for the ensuing year took place, with the following results:

President—Mrs. R. B. Walliver. Vice-President—Mrs. W. A. Cassels. Sec'y.—Mrs. A. R. Stent.

Visitors, bayers and cutters to be elected next meeting, which will take place first Wednesday in Feb. At the close Rev. C. W. G. Moore addressed those present, and his remarks were greatly appreciated.

An Answer Wanted

Dear Editor:—

I see that the doctor failed to answer my questions in the last issue of the Advocate, and as I believe the doctor has moved the publication of his epistles to the Lacombe Globe, a field where the doctor is less known, and no doubt with the purpose of avoiding answering the questions asked him in your last issue, but he cannot avoid them by such tactics. Surely the doctor has not got knocked out with the first dose of medicine compounded from his own prescription; and if he does not answer them in the next issue of his late publishers, I will come to the conclusion that he cannot do so without discredit to himself, and allow your readers to judge for themselves.

To be or not to be! that is the question. Whether 'tis better in this town to keep on renting, and run the risk of being on the move, by someone buying the house or store you are renting, or by yourself becoming owner, and the matter. There comes the rub! And let me say this, that you will have no better chance to rub out the rub than NOW, at the beginning of NINETEEN ELEVEN, when prices are LOWER than they will ever be again in Red Deer. The undermentioned you will not be able to buy at such a price in the Spring.

Eight Roomed House on one lot, 50 x 250 feet—$1,000. $500 cash handles it. Five Roomed House with basement and furnace, on three lots, on Nanton Ave.; good barn. $2,400. This is all right.

Six Roomed House on two lots on one of the best residential streets in the town. Brick foundation and good water. $2,000—and a good home, too. How's this? A frame House nearly finished, with five acres of land, fenced; only $1,200—half down. A splendid situation.

Five acres of land, all on the level, for only $1,000—Half cash, balance to suit. This one is in North Red Deer. A house comprising four rooms and basement, on two lots, fenced, and good water, for only $800. Terms to suit.

Here's about forty-two acres at Sylvan Lake for a level $1,000. Half down, balance to suit.

Seven Roomed House with entrance hall, city water and electric light, bath and furnace; newly decorated throughout. A real nice home for only $2,700—$500 cash.

Do you want a property to speculate on?—Then buy this. A seven roomed house on Fourth Street North, entrance hall, furnace and electric light. A really nice commodious home; and if you do not want to occupy it, I can guarantee a tenant at $20 per month. $500 cash will handle it, and the price is $2,500.

Do you want acreage lots close to town? I have them for a short time, and right on the main road. Good terms.

New Cereal Map of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta

The preliminary edition of the new cereal map of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, covering the crop areas for 1909, is just issued by the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, and a similar map is stated to be in progress showing the crop areas for 1910.
The efforts of the department have been for many years directed to placing settlers on Dominion lands in the west. The land available from existing lines of transportation is now, however, rapidly approaching exhaustion, and a question of great present interest, and the interest in which will increase from year to year is "What is being done with the land?" The cereal map is an effort to answer this question.

What the map shows.—The aim is to show graphically and separately as to each the areas under the four leading grains in correct proportion to the whole area and to each other. Circles in each township, drawn to scale, give at a glance, the area under each grain and the colors show the variety of grain as follows:
Red—Spring wheat.
Dark red—Winter wheat.
Green—Oats.
Yellow—Barley.
Blue—Flax.

The information has been furnished by the Provincial Governments having been compiled from the records furnished by the crop correspondents in each province.

Elevators.—The latest information in addition to the grain areas, the obtainable has been used to give total elevator capacity in each township. In each township, each railway station, each railway system having its own color. This elevator information is also given in a table which should be found complete and valuable.

Statistics.—The statistics of grain production in each province for each year, and from the earliest records down to last year, are given in a special table; these have been obtainable from the records of the Provincial Governments.

A table is also given of the grain production of each country in the world for last year. The figures were obtained from the International Institute of Agriculture.

Up to date in other respects.—All the usual information, post offices, railways, topography, etc. is up to date.

Future editions.—It is intended to issue new editions each year, and, as in the case of the majority of the publication of the Department of the Interior, no change will be made in the edition covering 1910 should be published some time during the coming winter.

Results hoped for.—The circulation of this map freely throughout the business communities of Canada east and west, and as well, in Great Britain and the United States, should be a distinct advantage to the country.

The following as to a much more ambitious map enterprise applies to this—
"The comparison being made by the eye and not by the mind, the point is not so much that one can compare the information as to different localities but one must."

A MODERN MIRACLE.

He Had Eczema 25 Years and Doctors said "No Cure."

Yet Zam-Buk Has Worked Complete Cure.

"This is the experience of a man of high reputation, widely known in Montreal, and whose case can readily be investigated. Mr. T. M. Marsh, the gentleman referred to, lives at 101 Dolomieu Avenue, Montreal, and has lived there for years. For twenty-five years he had eczema on his hands and wrists. The disease first started in red blotches, which itched, and when scratched became painful. Bad sores followed, which discharged, and the discharge spread the disease until the hands were one raw, painful mass of sores. Just think of this state of affairs continuing for twenty-five years!

In that time four eminent medical men tried to cure him, and each gave up the case as hopeless in the end. Naturally, Mr. Marsh tried remedies of all kinds, but he, also, at last gave it up. For two years he had to wear gloves night and day so terrible was the pain and itching when the air got to the sores.

Then came Zam-Buk! He tried it, just as he had tried hundreds of remedies before. But he soon found out that Zam-Buk was different. Within a few weeks there were distinct signs of benefit, and a little perseverance with this great herbal balm resulted in what he had given up all hope of—a complete cure!

And the cure was no temporary cure. It was permanent. He was cured nearly three years ago. He interviewed the other day, Mr. Marsh said: "The cure which Zam-Buk worked has been absolutely permanent. From the time that I was cured to the present moment I have had no trace of eczema, and I feel sure it will never return. Having suffered for three years, I was naturally concluded that my case was incurable, and I regard my cure as a modern miracle."

If you suffer from any skin trouble, cut out this article, write across it the name of this paper, and mail it, with one cent stamp to pay return postage, to Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. We will send you by return a free trial box of Zam-Buk. All druggists and stores sell this famous remedy, 50c. box, or three for $1.25. Refuse harmful substitutes.

Shall the Earth Die?

BY DAVID HEATH

Doomsday forever attracts the thinking mind. Will it come in an upheaval of earthquake, or in the whirlwind of fire from spontaneous combustion?

Will the frozen depths break forth, and the waters prevail, and all, in whose nostrils is the breath of life, die even as before? Or will the world end in the grip of ice and snow?

The recent arctic and Antarctic explorations shed light on the last postulate. It is a favorable theory with many leading scientists who aver the world will come to an end through extreme cold caused by the encroaching of the Polar ice. Every year more ice accumulates round the poles in many millions of tons, and the prophets of doom name of science point out that in time the frost will everywhere prevail, the whole world be frozen, and all life destroyed.

Thus the climate of Europe is on the whole growing colder. It is an accepted phenomenon, especially noticeable at the present time as regards fruits. Not only in Norway, Lapland, and Northern Russia in general, but in Scotland and Labrador, this change is in evidence. In Scotland orchard peaches cannot be grown with success; outdoor grapes do not ripen, and the jargonelle pear and many other fruits will not fruit north of Perthshire. While as regards Greenland the advance of Polar ice has rendered it uninhabitable save to the Esquimaux.

The antarctic in past ages underwent such a change. Shackleton has proved that its vast solitudes of interminable ice and snow have been the regions of tropical climate with its luxuriance of life and vegetation; even as once were the Arctic waters.

An earthquake Doomsday is a prevalent belief amongst the French savants.

Many of them avow that the world shall end in a universal cataclysm of earthquakes caused by the thin crust of the earth giving way under the weight above it.

But M. Camille Flammarion, one of the world's most eminent scientists and "exact workers in astronomy," has arrived at the conclusion that the destruction of the earth shall come through its impact with a celestial body. He has calculated that this terrestrial globe of ours, some seven hundred years hence, must enter the track of the Belia Comet, which crossed ours only a few years ago at a comparatively near distance—as astronomical distances are reckoned. On this future occasion, though, owing to inevitable deviations in the bodies which collide, to Mother Earth's destruction.

Some leading men of science, on the other hand, advance the belief that we shall be consumed by fire. Amongst them is Pelsa, the famous United States electrician and inventor, who has stated that when the atmosphere becomes superheated with the electric heat there will be a world-wide explosion—a species of spontaneous combustion in the ether, such as brings about the clear thunderstorm. Then life will be wiped out by fire, and the earth shattered into the abyss of space.

Well-known astronomers say the globe will deviate from its orbit and come in contact with one of the other planets with which it is then in a direct line, and through the shock be dissipated into space.

To be brief, that the world will collide with a heavenly body and die by fire is not so chimerical as many people assert.

Ours is a very little world revolving round a very little sun, which in its own turn travels a long ellipse. At one end of this ellipse blazes a sun, known to us as the star Arcturus, and at the other end absolute voids of absolute zero.

Will it be Arcturus that one day consumes this earth? More than 2,000 years ago Arcturus, as authentic records of astronomy prove, was seen from the earth only as a luminous speck. But now it blazes ever nearer in the evening sky, this side of Milky Way.

The arch which our sun, with our earth, is travelling at the rate of 500,000 miles a year, is shaped by the influence of Arcturus, and shows unalterable progression towards that planet. Round this growing point of light and heat we shall be carried within 25,000 years, and already are more than half way to the turning point.

At the turning point the earth will be so near Arcturus that all life will be destroyed—for Arcturus is an incandescent sun 1,000,000 times hotter than our own.

Fire shall burn up the earth. But the projection of the ellipse will carry the motion world round Arcturus, and away towards the star Polaris, to the extreme edge of the vastness of zero, which must be passed before the earth's return is again begun. At the extreme end of the ellipse our sun and satellites will again fall. This time in the abyss of absolute zero, and icy death overtakes the rawboned world. Yet again will life spring anew from the southern round is made, and warmth sets in once more.

It is calculated by scientists that 150,000 years are required for the circuit round Arcturus. That the world may be destroyed by another ellipse is postulated by many eminent geologists as being within the bounds of possibility, and, mayhap, of occurrence at any moment.

When the Antarctic ice-cap began to form it commenced pulling the ocean over the equator into the southern hemisphere. There are ancient sea margins which show that beyond all question of denial, that the deep ocean stood on an average 1,000 feet higher than it does at present. On the Fraser River, in the Rocky Mountains, the Andes, the Urals, and the high lands all over the northern hemisphere, these tokens of antediluvian high-tide are to be recognised.

This mass of water now missing is contained in the ice-cap of the Antarctic. Increasing in size, it is slowly displacing the centre of the earth's gravity to the southward, and this new it is three miles from the position which it held before the ice cap began to accumulate, acorns before the appearance of man.

The development, then, of the immeasurable glaciers of the South Pole has reached that point which may precede the sudden disintegration of the ice-cap.

At any hour the accumulated waters in the southern hemisphere, that comprehend four-fifths of the entire globe, may be hurled northward in billions of cubic miles of dissolving ice. They will rush across the Equator in a wall a mile high. This oceanic cataclysm will pour over Australasia. It will drown the plains of the Americas, of Europe and Asia, and Africa, flooding them hundreds of fathoms deep. Where Shackleton has found but ice and snow there must be created a new hemisphere. When the influence of Arcturus is considered, the glacial periods, the changes in fauna and flora, and land and sea, assume more definite explanation. But science, that cannot lie, indicates, as yet but blindly, there is a THAT, the laws of whose will control Arcturus, control all, and recreate life through Death.

Edmonton Pastor Goes to Red Deer

R. Pearson, of Grace Church, Accepts Invitation to Church at Red Deer—Committee Chosen to Secure Successor.

The Edmonton Bulletin says: Rev. R. Pearson, pastor of Grace Methodist church, will remove to Red Deer at the close of the present church year, provided conference consents to the change. Mr. Pearson received an unanimous invitation from the board to become pastor of the Red Deer church, and after some consideration decided to accept. His decision was conveyed to the official board of Grace church at a special meeting Tuesday night.

Mr. Pearson expressed his regret at severing connection with his present congregation, but felt that the circumstances in Red Deer opened the way for work along certain lines which seemed to him to promise large results. The board passed a resolution embodying the regret of the members at his departure, but giving him consent. A committee was chosen to deal with the matter for a new pastor for Grace church. The change will not take place until the close of the church year, June 30th.

IS RED DEER'S GAIN.

Calgary Alberta: The good people of Red Deer will secure the services of Rev. Robert Pearson as minister of the Red Deer church, and they are indeed fortunate. Mr. Pearson is an excellent type of young Canadian, and no country can have too many of him. He is a bright, example to the youth. Red Deer is fortunate.

Mat Hettinger, of Freeport, Illinois, in the early summer of 1910 bought a section of land west of Gleichen for which he paid $25 an acre. This land he has farmed up to the present when an opportunity to sell at $75 an acre presented itself. Mr. Hettinger therefore disposed of his land and reaped a profit in eighteen months of $52,000.—Gleichen Call.

The new year has opened now and everybody is making ready for a busier time. Remember it will help you to have a busy time and also to have a busy time successfully if you get your stationery printed at the News Office.

This Feeding Floor Could Be Built in The Fall

and it would help greatly to preserve the condition of your live stock in the Spring.

Every farmer knows that in the Spring of the year his barnyard is almost bottomless. The live stock mire down into the mud and almost float around—greatly to the detriment of their physical condition.

By building a Concrete feeding floor in the yard, this trouble is done away with.

A Feeding Floor of comparatively small area and built this Fall, would pay for itself next year. Concrete is the only material that can be used in this way at a moderate cost.

Will you ask for your copy of the book which we have prepared for you—"What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete"? It's free—and, take our word for it, you'll find it one of the most interesting pieces of such literature you ever read. And profitable, too—because it will save you money.

God gave them kings for a time, but they were unable to accomplish the great things hoped for. But the promise of a personal Messiah was made, and that he should be the superior of David, a great King, far superior to the great, wise and rich king of old, and that he should be the Son of David, the Lord (Psalm ex. 1; Matthew xxi, 42-44). Here, as we have seen, Israel began to get the thought of a personal Messiah, a King of Glory, who would use their nation as his instrumentality for conquering the world, when every knee should bow and every tongue confess to the glory of God.

The next lesson for Israel to learn was that a change of Dispensation must come, as Moses had mediated the Law Covenant to an antyper, Moses, a greater than Moses, would induce them into the blessings and privileges of a still better Covenant, a Covenant more favorable to them and under which they could gain eternal life. This New Covenant was particularly set before them through Jeremiah's prophecy (xxxi, 31-34). And this, combined with the statement of Moses respecting a greater Mediator, helped their faith to reach the point where the Oath-Bound Abrahamic Promise—"In the Seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed" (Gen. xii, 3).

If a great enough Mediator should come as the promised Messenger of God, and if he should be able to offer the blessing of eternal life, and if he, as the offspring of David, should become their King, then indeed Abraham's Seed, the nation of Israel under that great Mediator-King, would be fully qualified to receive the blessing of the earth. The thought of this glory to their nation became a fresh incentive to the people of Israel, and the fifty odd thousand of Jews, out of all the tribes of Israel, who returned from the Babylonian captivity, under the edict of Cyrus, offering them this privilege.

The Prophet Ezekiel the Lord again made mention of the fact that their Law Covenant, made at Sinai, was a shadow of the better thing of restitution, give place to a New Covenant, a better Covenant. Speak the word, and he would receive them out of all lands and would fulfill to them the promise which Abraham had given to him, and make them a great nation, and use them for the blessing of other nations, and he would give you your sakes do I this, O house of Israel, but for my name's sake." He then proceeds to tell them that at the time he would receive them back again into his love and favor he would also humble their pride by restoring the Samaritans to the Son of David—people whom Israel detested as inferior and sinners.

Notice the further message of the Lord through the Prophet, "I will come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those who oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and are not concerned." Ah, do we not see here plainly stated that the Messiah King means not a swift witness against those whom he will accept as servants, but that it means also requirements of faithfulness to the principles of truth, of purity, of harmony with God? And this lesson for the Jew, under his New Covenant arrangement, will ultimately apply to all nations. Under that new arrangement, the Messiah King will be the mediator of the new Covenant, all the families of the earth will be privileged to become Israelites in the flesh, and the families of the great Prophet, Priest, King and Mediator of Israel and of all the families of the earth.

Many a young man loses his head trying to win a girl's love.

A Fall Upwards

A story is told of a certain nobleman in Europe who had a eccentric humor, and also had sufficient money to indulge it. He had a villa that was his particular joy, and one evening, when he was entertaining a party of friends there, a young man suddenly fell asleep in the billiard room, two smiling attendants appeared and carried him to bed. The next morning the other guests were awakened by the host in person, and conducted to a peephole through which they saw the young man lying asleep on a white plastered floor. The ceiling was carpeted and the various articles of bedroom furniture were securely fastened to it, so that the young man could not get up. The host, with a cry of terror, grasped a chandelier that came up through the plastered floor. "They all do it," cried the host, with a laugh, "every man of them grabs that chandelier lest he should fall up to the ceiling."—Argonaut.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one drugged disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

PEOPLE'S PULPIT.

Sermon by
CHARLES T. RUSSELL
Pastor Brooklyn Tabernacle

Brooklyn, Dec. 4.—Pastor Russell continues to use the Academy of Music, our largest Auditorium, whenever he speaks in Brooklyn; the "Tabernacle" being of insufficient capacity. He had a splendid audience of about 1,500 people, and was evidently chiefly from the middle walks of life. Asked why so few of the wealthy were present, he replied: "Of my Master it is written, 'The common people heard him gladly.' He spoke from the following text:

"The Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the Messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in. Behold he shall come, with clouds of Heavens; and he shall be glorified; and he shall be glorified."

Six thousand years ago in Eden our Maker, in justly punishing his disobedient children to death, intimated that ultimately the Seed of the woman would bruise the serpent's head. This hidden promise was the first intimation of the Divine mercy for the good of his creatures; that they might learn to appreciate the goodness and kindness of their Creator, and that they might fully know of his justice, and of his wisdom and power. God insisted upon dealing with his creatures from the standpoint of exact justice. He had sinned, and thereby had forfeited all claim upon the eternal life which he had given them conditionally.

Eternal torment, as we have already seen, did not in any sense or degree enter into the Divine intention. His sentence upon man, placed, was, "Dying thou shalt die, not, Living thou shalt live in torment." The seed which he shall die (Genesis ii, 17; Ezekiel xvii, 4). God intended to exemplify in his dealing with our race a principle of Divine government to be made operative everywhere—ultimately amongst all the creatures of the spirit plane, as well as upon the earth.

Long centuries after, in the seventh generation of Adam's children, God spoke prophetically through one of his, Enoch, saying, "The Lord has chosen thee to be a witness of his holiness to execute justice in the earth—to establish righteousness amongst men. Time passed on, and the sin prevailed and the coming of the Great Deliverer was still future.

Next God spoke to Abraham, and first he had tested his faith and loyalty. To him he mentioned the same great Deliverer who would bring the seed of his promise, and who would come in great glory with thousands of his holy ones. To Abraham he gave assurance that this seed, in some way, would be identified with his posterity, so that he might properly be called the Seed of Abraham. He said, "In thy Seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed."

The Divine Program was changed, but more explicit statements were given respecting it. Thereafter all taught of God would be to look for the Messiah blessing through Abraham's Seed. Besides, the Covenant was afterwards confirmed with an Oath to Abraham; later, to Isaac; later, to Jacob. That Covenant promise became the basis of God's adoption of the entire nation of Israel—all of Abraham's children. They were the Seed of the Abrahamic Covenant, the Oath-Bound Covenant. If so great an honor from the Almighty God had made to the Jewish people at times to appear arrogant and proud, let us not forget that to be humanely forgiven by Divine. Perhaps if we were in their stead our imperfections would similarly display themselves.

Israel's experience of tribulation and bondage in Egypt were probably necessary to prepare them for God's great proposition—that they should keep the Law and as a reward have life everlasting. As it is written, "He that doeth these things shall live by them" (Leviticus xviii, 5). Israel greatly rejoiced in this manifestation of Divine preference for them more than for all others of humanity. The Law Covenant was mediated. The sacrifices of bulls and goats, the typical atonement for them for a year, so that they might enter into this Covenant relationship with God. But when they attempted to keep the Law, they were disappointed. They failed in the Law of being a perfect measure of a perfect man's ability, and the Jews, like other men, being imperfect, found that they had undertaken an impossibility.

Not a Jew kept the Law perfectly. Not a Jew, therefore, gained eternal life during the first year. But God, foreknowing this, had made preparation for a repetition of the Atonement by every year, so that the people might continue striving to attain eternal life. Year after year, they were unable to accomplish the sacrifices that God had required of them, and the blood of bulls and of goats, and also teaching them that there was no other means of justification in his sight. They got blessing under this Covenant—educational and not the blessing of eternal life, for not life eternal. Hence they were not in a position to become, as they had hoped, a national Messiah, a national Seed of Abraham, for the blessing of all the nations.

God gave them kings for a time, but they were unable to accomplish the great things hoped for. But the promise of a personal Messiah was made, and that he should be the superior of David, a great King, far superior to the great, wise and rich king of old, and that he should be the Son of David, the Lord (Psalm ex. 1; Matthew xxi, 42-44). Here, as we have seen, Israel began to get the thought of a personal Messiah, a King of Glory, who would use their nation as his instrumentality for conquering the world, when every knee should bow and every tongue confess to the glory of God.

The next lesson for Israel to learn was that a change of Dispensation must come, as Moses had mediated the Law Covenant to an an-

This New Covenant was particularly set before them through Jeremiah's prophecy (xxxi, 31-34). And this, combined with the statement of Moses respecting a greater Mediator, helped their faith to reach the point where the Oath-Bound Abrahamic Promise—"In the Seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed" (Gen. xii, 3).

who have the truth—to draw near to God and to show their faith by helping forward in the restoration of earthly Jerusalem, and her interests. The first-born of the Father, as his glorious Agent in the great work of restoring, but the younger, granted him of becoming the great Messenger of the Covenant, the great Prophet, Priest and King of Israel, the great Michael of Daniel xii, 1. But there were tests connected with his attaining to his high position.

(1) By faith he must lay aside his heavenly glory, in obedience to the Father, and become a man—indeed a sinful man, but a perfect man—holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners. (2) He thus prepared to become the Redeemed it was his privilege to make full consecration of his earthly interest and the Father's pleasure to begot him of the holy Spirit at Jordan to the spirit nature on the highest plane. For three and a half years his sacrifice burned upon the altar. It was indeed better than the sacrifice of bulls and goats, for it was a corresponding price for Adam's eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth; a man's life for a man's life. (3) When his sacrifice had thus successfully atoned for his earthly life, he experienced a resurrection change from human nature to spiritual, like what was originally, only higher and more glorious. Thus he was at once a man, a sacrifice and the spirit-begotten priest who offered that sacrifice. When he arose from the dead, his personal sacrifice had thus been a personal perfection as a spirit being was completed.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 11th, 1911

RED DEER'S GROWTH.

Red Deer is just awakening to the fact that we are going to be a city. For some years we have been making steady, firm progress, but only enough to ensure us a sure foundation. Everything necessary to a city has been added to our facilities. Water works and sewerage ensure us a pure, clean, healthy town. Our splendid hospital is an aid to this end. Our electric facilities ensure us light and power. Our wide, clean streets help to make the town attractive. Our municipal institutions are the best. Our situation on the banks of one of the great rivers of the west gives us location, and our central position between the two prominent cities of the province makes it possible for us to be the great central railway divisional point between the north and south. The great development promised by the Alberta Central railway cannot help but boost our town and place us in a position fully as good as either Calgary or Edmonton. Values in real estate have increased as they never increased before in the same space of time, and this at a time when the real estate business is supposed to be taking a rest if it ever takes a rest. The pregnant idea with the quiet, thoughtful citizen is that nothing can prevent a strong, far movement in the spring. The tremendous reserve force behind the citizens of the town, which has been held in leash for so long, is about to be let loose and absolutely nothing can stand before it. This optimistic feeling prevails all classes. It may have taken some time to educate the people up to this idea but they are now becoming seized of the sense of it, and to understand what it means to our town. Red Deer cannot be held back any longer. She is coming into her own.

THE RESPONSIBILITY.

Speaking before the Canadian club, Toronto, on Thursday, Mr. R. L. Borden, leader of the Conservative party, said:

"How can democratic institutions be permanent if the foundations are unstable? How can the foundations be stable if the people and especially the children are not instructed in the duties of citizenship? The party system is undoubtedly attended by many evils and anomalies. "Work in it until a better way is devised. Let no man consider himself too clean and superior to be concerned in political activities. If politics are dirty, you are responsible, and it is your duty to cleanse them."

To an interviewer, Mr. Borden made this statement: "The future of the Liberal party in Canada depends to a great extent, if not completely, upon the success or failure of the reciprocity negotiations at Washington."

Mr. Borden tonight was the guest of the Central Conservative association. Graham-White, probably the most expert of English aviators, believes that the present year will witness a transformation of the airship from a toy to something of practical utility. The defects which have retarded development so far are inability to control

The comma bacillus of Koch, otherwise known as the tuberculous germ, is about to make his first appearance on the stage in the character of a desperate villain. According to the plan, films showing how the disease is bred, spread and fought are to be shown simultaneously in seven thousand moving-picture shows, and it is believed that ten million people will see them and profit by them. No member of the bacillus families is being pursued more relentlessly than this dangerous fellow, and it is encouraging to observe his grip upon the race loosened a little year by year.

MR. PATTERSON AGAIN.

(Lethbridge News)
The legislative acts of Mr. Patterson, the member for Macleod, have been causing the Lethbridge Herald a lot of anxiety. Nearly every issue of that great journal of the home and fireside contains some peevish reference to him. It cannot figure him for voting against Premier Sifton's confiscation bill. Mr. Patterson's independence led him to endorse the policy of the Conservative party on nearly all questions that came up, but what of other courses was open to a fair-minded, intelligent member. The Conservatives always had the right end of the argument, and Mr. Patterson would not have been true to his convictions had he not voted with them. On the confiscation bill, Mr. Patterson voted with the Conservatives, but he also voted with quite a large number of Liberals. If even straight out and out Liberals considered the measure unworthy of support, surely Mr. Patterson, a confessed independent, should not be censured for taking the same stand.

To Reroll Rails in Canada Under Prohibitive Duty.

Tariff of $7 a ton Put in Force Against Rerolled Rails Entering from United States.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 1.—For many years it has been customary for railway companies to have rails rerolled in the United States, and such rails have been admitted into Canada upon the payment of a duty equal to 25 per cent. of the value of the work done upon them. By the Customs Act of 1907 it was provided that this concession might be terminated by Order-in-Council. The Canada Gazette just issued contains an Order-in-Council stating that a "mill has been established in Canada adapted and equipped for rerolling in substantial quantities rails used in railway tracks weighing less than fifty-six pounds per lineal yard when rerolled, it is hereby ordered that the Customs duty specified in Item 388A of the Customs Tariff, 1907, shall be abolished upon publication of this Order-in-Council in the Canada Gazette, and thereafter all such rails when imported shall be subject to such duty as otherwise provided in the Customs Tariff." This means that hereafter rails rerolled in the United States can only enter Canada upon paying the prohibitive duty of $7 per ton. It has been frequently charged that some new rails escaped the Customs duty by being brought into the country as rerolled rails.

Seeking to Curb Quebec Clergy

Postmaster-General Carried Protest to Pope

Montreal, Jan. 1.—Advices received here to-day state that Postmaster-General Lemieux, who was in Rome recently, had a very important conference with the Pope, and it is expected that important results will follow from his mission to Rome. The main object of the Postmaster-General's visit to Rome was to protest to his Holiness against clerical interference in Quebec politics. It is claimed by the Liberals that a great part of the Quebec clergy are openly helping the Nationalist campaign against Mr. Bourassa. Of course, the Liberals had nothing to say against clerical influence when it was used to help them and defeat Conservatives in previous general elections. But that the clergy should throw their influence against Liberals is another matter, and they now want influence brought on the clergy to cease interfering in politics. For that reason Postmaster-General Lemieux, who was representing Canada at the South African celebration, was called to stop over at Rome and see what could be done. How far he has succeeded in his mission, it is, of course, impossible to say, but the Vatican authorities will have a very difficult matter on their hands, as some of the Quebec clergy are not likely to be so submissive as on former occasions. Mr. Bourassa, before his return home, is also expected to have an interview with the Pope, so that his Holiness will have the two sides presented to him. Postmaster-General Lemieux is now in Paris, and will shortly sail for home.

Female Bandit at Saskatoon

Soaks Real Estate Agent For $400

Saskatoon, Sask., Dec. 31.—"I want a hundred dollars and I want it right now." With this demand, a young woman appeared in the office of a young real estate man of the city. The young real estate man tried to evade the issue by muttering that he did not know his visitor or know of any reason why he should hand over the money, but it did not go. He was told to cut out the argument and the demand was further enforced by the introduction into the situation of a cuto, but businesslike looking 32-calibre revolver. It was dark red with some white on belly, the other one two years old, a kind of roan in color; no visible brand. Owner can have animal by proving property and paying expenses. It is rather significant that the matter has not been laid before the authorities, and it is said further that it is not likely to be.

Lethbridge Must Go Ahead

The following splendid sentiment well expressed by the Saturday Courier shows Lethbridge has the right kind of newspaper man to back it up.

Lethbridge has made good. In the face of an alleged crop failure and the subsequent sluggishness as a result of that failure, this city has held her own, and in fact has even gained ground. Some other cities have faced a great deal worse, but Lethbridge has pulled out on top of the heap and is bucking jump along in a most marvelous manner. Her building permits have left the million dollar mark in the remote distance, municipal improvements have been carried out extensively because of the absolute necessity which created the demand. New buildings are already planned for erection in 1911, steps will be taken for the inauguration of a street railway system, new steam railways are building toward the city and there is positively no reason to believe that the new year can be anything but the greatest and most important in the career of Lethbridge. We have the greatest city in Western Canada, won't back up from any of them, and we're booting together to making things hum. The new year is upon us and we're mighty glad it is, new people are coming to Lethbridge and this city is just what is needed, all bound to go ahead so fast that nothing can stop it. Welcome to our city, Mr. Newyear.

Publicity Commissioner Davison Weds

Camrose joined hands with Wetaskiwin to boost Red Deer on Thursday last, when Mr. J. Reginald Davison, B.A., of Camrose, the recently appointed publicity commissioner of Red Deer, was married to Miss Jean C. Major of Wetaskiwin. The wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Wallace at Wetaskiwin, and was attended only by the immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom. After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Davison left immediately for B.C. They will establish their home in Red Deer upon their return in about a fortnight. Miss Major's home is in Ottawa, Ontario, but she has become very well and popularly known in the social and literary circles of Wetaskiwin.

We extend to our new commissioner and his bride our best wishes for a long, happy and prosperous united life, and we welcome them gladly in making their home with us. Mr. Davison had laid his plans to have his office opened here during the present week, but an attack of puerility, which confined him in the hospital at Camrose for two weeks, broke up the plans and made a more extended rest necessary before undertaking his active work in Red Deer.

Inaugural Council Meeting

Mayor Welliver's Address

The statutory meeting of the Town Council, was held in the Commission-ers' office on Tuesday evening. Those present Mayor Welliver, in the chair, Councillors Carswell, Alford, Malcolm, Menzies and Gialbraith, and Commissioner Stephenson.

The Secretary-Treasurer reported that Councillors Alford, Malcolm and Menzies had made their oaths of qualification and office.

The Mayor cordially welcomed the new members of Council. The progress of the town necessitated more attention on the part of the Council and he was satisfied they would deal with the questions arising with an eye single to the welfare of the people. His Worship then entered upon a review of some matters which might come before them this year.

One of these might be another arbitration regarding light and telephone rates which were too high, in his judgment. The company contended that the Town, having once appealed to arbitration, was estopped from any further arbitration during the life of the franchise. He did not read the clause that way: it was intended, he believed, to allow of arbitration by either Town or Company at any time. There might be other measures adopted, perhaps, to bring about a lowering of rates; that would be for them to consider.

The question of taking in outside sub-divisions would confront them. These were getting the use partly of the services brought into being by the community, they were greatly increased in value thereby, and it was reasonable that they should pay some of the taxation. Perhaps it might be better to wait the consideration and passage of the new municipal bill, before taking any more.

The advisability of the Town procuring a street and inter-urban railway charter might be considered. With such a charter they could protect the Town's interests in this respect. Further investigation of the Red Deer river water power might be advisable.

Every sympathy and assistance should be given towards the beautifying of the Town and streets with trees, gardens, lawns, etc.

The civic nursery recommended by the Commissioners of last year was a good idea. They might try some houseplanting.

The Council, in his opinion, should seriously consider using pressure to have all unimproved property in the town limits put for sale. The houses were being forced outside of the town owing to this unimproved property, which practically split the eastern part of the Town into two parts, from Fifth Street North to the Exhibition ground. While they might be assessed as high as was consistent with present conditions of the property, the time was near when this property should be broken up so as to carry its share of the town services of water, etc., and of assessment.

Companies and corporations without doubt be seeking arrangements with the municipality. The citizens could trust the Council to conserve the Town's best interests.

He was looking forward to the adoption of the Single Tax system as a basis of assessment in Red Deer. Vancouver had it, and Edmonton was approaching it. This laid all taxation on the land, unused land bearing most of the share of taxation now carried by improvements. There were obstacles to be surmounted, it was true, but they should press towards this system, he believed. Nothing would encourage the improvement of property as much as clearing buildings of taxation.

Though their area and assessment was smaller than it should be, they should keep their taxation as low as possible. He asked for the most open and independent expression of opinion from the Councillors. The Commissioners might not always agree, but their judgments, he was convinced would be honestly held.

Short speeches of congratulation to His Worship on his election by acclamation to the highest office in the gift of the people, and of appreciation of his review of the problems before the Council were made by the Councillors. Councillor Alford said his connection with the Council so far had been pleasant and instructive. The new councillors showed by their attitude that they were prepared to give capable and loyal service to the Town. After a word or two from Commissioner Stephenson, the Council adjourned at nine o'clock.

Don't forget the church service next Sunday at 11 o'clock. Preacher, Rev. A. Grant of Everts.

The Secretary of the local branch U.F.A. has received a cheque from Mr. McGregor of the A.C.R. on behalf of Mrs. Peter Eckell. The doctor summoned to attend the late Mr. Eckell, who had been in the employ of the A.C.R., was not the company's physician and consequently no claim could be made for medical attendance. The cheque received, which is for the amount of the doctor's fee, is due to the kindness of the hospital trustees, Dr. Collison, and the good offices of Mr. McGregor.

An institute meeting under the Department of Agriculture will shortly be held at Eckville. All farmers should be interested.

Don't forget the dance on Friday next. Ladies please bring refreshments, which need not be typical of "hard times." Music by Kimm Bros.

Leslieville

The Xmas tree held at Prairie Rose school on Wednesday, December 29, was well attended. A good programme was given by the scholars of the school, after which old Santa visited and was good to every one.

Miss Greenwood, teacher at Burnt Lake, spent the holidays with the Misses Patterson of Shendish.

Special Xmas service was held at the session of the Sunday School of Bethel Union church on Christmas Day, after which the members of the school presented Mr. J. J. Reilly with a beautiful shaver set for his services as superintendent for the past two years.

Miss Maggie McFaul, who has been away for nearly a year in Oregon, has returned to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Case are the proud and happy parents of a little daughter.

Miss Helen McGuire is spending the holidays at home.

Pitcox

Mrs. Divine, of Pittsburg, Pa., is here on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Stan. Frid. She will perhaps stay all winter here.

Wm. Joice met with a serious accident at his sawmill a short time ago. While he was adjusting the planer, which was in motion, his left hand, which held a wrench, slipped off a nut he was tightening and came in contact with a set of heading knives he had just put on, and they struck his middle finger and made a very ugly wound.

The Xmas tree entertainment at the Blue Bell hotel house was a grand success, and a full house is reported. All present were pleased with the program.

The correspondent for the News and his family were highly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frid, Monday eve of last week, and a fine display of candies, nuts and fruit was consumed during the evening, and a variety of social games was part of the amusement. Their large sitting room was very nicely decorated with Xmas cheer.

Mr. D. Klatchner, who has been putting time in on his homestead, is spending his holidays in Red Deer.

P. B. Warren made a business trip to Everts on Saturday last week. We have heard that the A.C.R. Co. is getting the bridge thing out at Martin's mill for the new bridge over the Medicine river. We all hope they will rush this work through and soon have trains running over their road, for it will open up some of the best farming and grazing land in Alberta.

Poplar Ridge.

The Christmas tree which was held in the Poplar Ridge school on Dec. 21st, was an unqualified success, it being such a beautiful night a large crowd attended. The school house was nicely decorated with evergreens and flowers. The tree was decorated with the usual decorations. A fine programme was prepared. After the programme was over old Santa Claus distributed the goodies. Everybody left feeling they had had a most enjoyable evening.

W. R. Atkins has gone over to his wood camp to haul cord wood. He has two teams on at present and expects to put on more. He also has a gang of men cutting good for W. R.

Levi Atkins will move into his own house next week.

The Alberta Central people are moving ahead with their winter work of clearing, brushing, getting out timber, etc., with survey and location parties further west. It is expected that work on the steel trestle work for the bridge west over the Red Deer river will be begun before the end of this month.

It is expected that six or eight stalls will be added to the C.P.R. round house here next summer to accommodate the engines running out of Red Deer. It is also on the slate that five sidings will be laid, in addition to the three long ones put in last year, three on the west of this year's sidings, and two on the right-hand side. There are thirty men at, attached to the Red Deer terminal, independent of the office and freight staffs.

A. H. Trimble & Son sold this week a nice bull from their celebrated Ayrshire herd to go to Mr. Polo, of Airdrie. Mr. Trimble reports the enquiry for dairy-stock strong. Other enquiries this week were for a bunch of bulls and a bunch of heifers. Mr. Trimble is now getting $150 a month from the cows he has been milking all summer. Mr. Trimble counts that a good deal of credit for this gratifying result goes to his dairyman, Thos. Farmer, who keeps the stable and the cows in splendid condition.

H. Salter has been committed for trial on five charges of horse stealing, pleading guilty to each charge. He told of the driving off of a bunch of horses from Adams by himself and his partner Patterson, and their sale at Penhold and Red Deer. The Mounted Police are trying to find the owners of seven of the fifteen horses rounded up in the Salter-Patterson bunch. They have found owners for eight of them, one away in Saskatchewan. Mr. Ford, of Hill End, who bought seven of the horses, is out his $410, which Patterson and Salter divided, but Mr. Cottle, at Red Deer, has saved the $450 agreed upon for eight head by stopping the payment of the check.

Confessed Murderer Tells Awful Story

Calgary, Alta., Jan. 4.—The big sensational of the preliminary hearing of the charge of murder preferred against John Fisk and Thomas Mitchell Robertson, transpired, this morning, when Robertson, the self-confessed participant in the murder of Tucker Peach, the Gladys rancher, took the stand and told how he alleged that he and Fisk had committed the ghastly crime.

An enormous crowd thronged the court room long before the hearing was scheduled to start. In eager anticipation of the sensational evidence that was to follow. By the time the proceedings had commenced the court room, the corridors, the stairway, and even the space about the entrance was so congested with morbid would-be auditors of the revolting recital of crime as alleged to be one of the most heinous crimes in the annals of the law.

The vital part of Robertson's statement was:
"Fisk and I left Fisk's house about six o'clock on the morning of the Saturday after the king's funeral.
I knocked at the door, after looking into the window. 'Pucker asked 'Who is there?' and I answered telling him that it was me and Fisk."

"He said 'come in,' and opened the door."
"We went in and Fisk shot the old man as he was sitting up in bed.
I saw blood coming down his head.
Then Fisk handed me the shooter and I shot. I guess I shot him, and I couldn't miss him. Then we went outside the house to see if anyone was looking. I went to the stable and hitched up Peach's horse and when I returned the body was rolled up, so we lifted it into the wagon and drove down to the river and threw it in. After putting the body in the river, and when we were driving out I saw Fisk take something from his pocket and throw it into the stream. I think it was a revolver."

"Then I had another rig, and so I drove to the school and got a boy to drive the rig into Dewinton.
I had a wagon too, and needed someone to help me."
"When I came back again Fisk was in his field rolling his fall wheat."
Robertson declared that Fisk entered the house first and witness had remained outside. Peach stood up for a moment talking about the morning, and asked what they wanted. No answer was given. He sat down on the bed to pull on his trousers. Then Fisk shot.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At the afternoon session, the chief evidence was that of Miss Lydia Peachman, who said that when the body was found, Fisk was at her father's house and had jokingly remarked that perhaps the body was that of Tucker Peach, adding in a joking way that perhaps the fellow who had bought Peach out had done away with him. Several witnesses also swore that Fisk had said that he had heard that Peach had sold out and gone north to Stettler.

On June 24th Robertson went to the postmaster and paid the taxes on the Peach property.

The preliminary hearing will probably be finished tomorrow. So far 15 witnesses have been examined.

Midnight Train Service

Discontinued Until Spring

The announcement is made from the C.P.R. offices that the tri-weekly midnight train service between Strathcona and Calgary was dis-
some time early next spring.

It will be remembered that the service was inaugurated on June the first of last year on a thirty days' trial and so popular was the flyer with the travelling public that its success was assured from the start.
The runs have since that time been made regularly and have now been discontinued much later in the winter than was anticipated. Through the fact that the new time-tables of the company scheduled the tri-weekly night service as daily, it is the opinion that when the service is renewed next spring there will be another train put on the run so that a round trip may be had every twenty-four hours.

It was first thought that the midnight service would cause such a shrinkage in the business of one of the regular morning and afternoon trains that one would of necessity have to be taken off, but this proved decidedly otherwise. All trains throughout the summer and fall were heavily patronized and appreciated by the great crowd of passengers.

Dairy Convention At Innisfail

Addressed by Minister of Agriculture and Dairy Commissioner Marker, of Calgary

Innisfail, Jan. 5.—With about fifty delegates in attendance from Wetaskiwin, Red Deer, Blackfalds, Content,
Viking, Havelock, Markerville, Innisfail, Hemby, Calgary, Central and other points, Dairy Commissioner Marker, of Calgary, opened the first session of the Alberta Creamery Convention here yesterday afternoon.

Mayor G. W. West spoke briefly welcoming the convention to Innisfail and extending to the delegates the freedom of the town.
Mr. Carswell acted as chairman, and introduced Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture. In a vigorous address, the speaker mentioned that the drought of the summer had somewhat interfered with the success of dairying in the province. This year, however, the government intended to make the dairies pay their own way. He pointed out that the object of the dairies act was to give all dairy-workers, from the farmers up, a square deal.

Dairy Commissioner Marker spoke on the dairy interests in the province for the past year, and urged the delegates to use every effort to put the dairy business in the province on a proper basis. He said that at some points of interest, of dairying were climate, inside and outside markets, expressage and new legislation. Mr. Marker's remarks were logically convincing. The majority of the delegates who spoke on the grading system, were of the opinion that it worked well.

A resolution committee was formed and consists of the following members: Messrs. Markerbury, Barker, Cameron, Carswell, Grope, J. Smith and Pallesen.

Growers Not Disloyal.

Were Not Disgruntled Foreigners.

Toronto, Dec. 30.—J. W. Seallion, of Viridian, Manitoba, one of the organizers and organizers of the Manitoba Grain Growers' Association, speaking to the Globe this morning,
said he wished to emphatically contradict the impression conveyed by T. J. Russell, M.A., in his address to the Canadian Club yesterday, which Mr. Seallion thought was to the effect that the delegation to the Dominion Government was composed of other than loyal British Canadian subjects. Mr. Seallion says that in the executive of the three provincial associations, the only one who may not have completed the necessary forms of naturalization is Mr.
Warner, from Alberta, who has come from the United States, but who is enthusiastic over his new home.

Mr. Seallion added that the vast majority of the delegation are men like himself, who left the provinces of Ontario, Quebec, P. E. I., New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, to settle in the West. Most of the others are from Britain. There are no other Europeans or foreigners in the executive. They went to the west and all of them had long, lean years, but they remained, and after hard struggles, succeeded. They were now, as always, asking for a square deal and meant to get it.

He believes that the grain growers are similarly asking for what is fair and reasonable that in the end the people of Canada will be a very large majority so declare.

Don't sow wild oats and noxious weed seeds along with good grain this spring. If you do you will reap wild oats and weeds in the fall. Get a good fanning mill from the Red Deer Implement Co. and take out the wild oats and weed seed before sowing this spring.

Letter boxes arrived last week to be placed at the station for the convenience of the general public. One will be for north bound trains and one for south bound trains. This will be a great convenience to citizens, as many letters are taken to the train, and now a person need not wait for the train's arrival. Dr. Clark, M.P., secured this favor for the town.

Henry Jamieson returned from a visit to the Jamieson & McKennie lumber camp at Morrissey, B. C., last week, and reports the camp laid out for the winter owing to the snow. We asked him how deep the snow was, and he looked up at the ceiling and said it was about ten or twelve feet deep. But he says the company now has got everything in readiness for a big season's cut next spring.

A gentleman named W. R. Tully, of Atholstan, Quebec, who has considerable real estate dealings with the town, and who is pleased with his business this year that he sent that gentleman a cheque for $18 as a Christmas gift to some worthy institution of the town, and Mr. Welliver turned the sum over to the Memorial Hospital. Mr. Tully feels that the town where he makes part of his living is entitled to a share of what he makes, although he does not live here.

Eyestrain And Criminality.

It is said by criminologists that eyestrain will so abort the natural functions of the nervous system as to arouse criminal instincts into predominance.

Speaking frankly I think that there is something in it. The nervous system is an extremely delicate and complex mechanism and should not be subjected to the disturbing influences produced by eyestrain.

Properly adjusted glasses may reform a character.

Our fanning mills will clean wheat, oats, barley and grass seed to perfection. They will separate wheat, from oats, barley from oats, and wild oats from tame oats. They will clean out wild oats and weed seed from the good grain.—Red Deer Implement Co.

Curling Notes.

R. C. Brumpton and A. T. Stephenson will take rinks to Innisfail on Friday to play in the competition for the district trophy and for district medals.

Preparations are being made for a bonspiel at Red Deer in February.

A. T. Stephenson's rink defeated F. W. Galbraith's rink, putting him out of the running for the cup, Monday night. It now rests between Stephenson and Hanna on the Vice-President's side. Who the winner on the President's side will be is hard to say.

R. B. Welliver and A. R. Gibson played an interesting and exciting game on Christmas for a turkey. The sides were teachers vs. real estate curriers. Mr. Welliver had S. N. Carscadden, A. Wylic, and P. Pidgeon, while Mr. Gibson had G. W. McKennie, a teacher from Olds and Mr. Ruderham, Gibson von, and His Worship sent up three chickens to the hospital.
